Uimara Translates price volatiity into supply Volatility using a rebase mechanism.

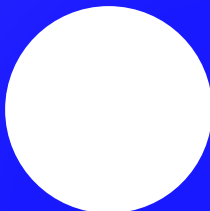

Imara Token is stable and keeps price at a stable $0.50 while supply changes proportionately across every holder's wallet. With a Imara Token, price of goods and services are ensured to be stable and always predictable. Supply is non-diluent as what you hold is a percentage and that changes uniformly across all wallets.

When Price > $0.5, wallet balances Increase proportionally
When Price < $0.5, wallet balances Decrease proportionally
